New Jerseyans are represented by stalwart leaders like Senators Cory Booker and Robert Menendez and Representative Frank Pallone, along with newly-elected champs like Representatives Andy Kim and Mikie Shirell.

Following a Clean Water Action report that exposed how the fossil fuel industry has gamed a tax credit to its benefit, Senator Robert Menendez requested that the IRS Inspector General investigate the 45Q tax credit. The IGs report confirmed the IRS oversight was lax and found that the industry made off with even more taxpayer money than previously known.

Senator Cory Booker reintroduced the Environmental Justice Act of 2019 which aims to close the gaps in protection that low income communities, communities of color, and indigenous communities have dealt with for decades. It will codify the landmark Executive Order 12898, signed by President Clinton, which required federal agencies to incorporate a focus on environmental justice.

Representative Frank Pallone introduced the CLEAN Future Act,* a plan to ensure the United States achieves net-zero greenhouse gas pollution no later than 2050.

This legislation is not scored because neither the Senate nor the House has voted on it yet.*
